I think a lot of the things on the list are highly depending on where you are in the game.

I didn't do the ayatan hunt for years. I think I have 500k Endo in ayatan that I don't need for anything.

You're absolutely right. The to-do list can vary depending on where you are in the game and what your personal goals are. Focus on the activities that will help you achieve your goals and provide you with the most enjoyment. If Ayatan hunts aren't something you enjoy or need (to do) at the moment, then it's perfectly fine to skip it!

animal capturing/fishing), I'd stick to that.

Daily craft of Fieldron, Detonite Injector, Mutagen Mass costs a lot of Plastids in a long run. I preferred to get them through invasions while also farming death marks from faction hunters. Other people advise to farm low level bounty Fortuna (PT?) for 2 x rewards/5 min.

Once you start doing more liches/sisters of parvos you will have plenty of unopened requiem relics. Siphon mission early on are good until then.

Yes, do Steel Path Incursions if you haven't unlocked that node yet or if you don't like doing 1h+ sp farms (where you get more Steel Essence + farm compared to 5 quick missions).

You have in weeklies 'advance nightwave ranks' but also the offerings for nightwave reward currency also rotates on weekly bases. (important mods)

I'd add to the list, visiting warframe.market and creating your sale list to get platinum for slots and potatoes. It's a gamechanger for f2p.

AlecaFrame or simpler WFInfo are good to use, if you want to know which prime part to sell for plat or ducats.

If you then have some plat you are one of the players who main 1-2 frames you can try to broaden the spectrum of frames you play for specific missions and later on even copy builds for endurance runs from Youtubers like KnightmareFrame and Aznvasions.

If you rather read text than watch then check out thegamer.com for in-depth explanation guides. Overframe.gg was useful to me but not recommended by late game oriented Youtubers.

Check out Warframe infographics made by u/Joewoof every so often. (progression guide / mechanics explanation) is the iron wake riven/kuva lady daily or weekly?

id add buying the weekly special for steel path or at least the ones you want. Usually decent to do the steel path dailies to afford those.

As mentioned before, Iron Wake 35,000 Kuva and Archimedean Yonta 35,000 Kuva are really nice to pick up every week.

I haven't done a sortie in a long time, maybe a year or more. There's nothing i want from there

While it's true that the Sortie rewards aren't always desirable, it's still a good idea to complete them for the chance at rewards like Rivens and legendary cores!
