Railjack modding tips that will help you even when someone else is host!

Tool/Guide

I've made a guide on Components and Armaments. I've made a guide on AI crew. Now it's time to tackle probably the hardest part of Railjack. What mods to equip?

A disclaimer to start, modding affects you even when you are not hosting. I'm not just talking about Railjack auras or your Warframe arsenal. Even mods like Ion Burn or Seeker Volley work when you are not host! This may be the most important guide out of the three I've done, since no one else can influence your mod config!

INTEGRATED:

Now, let's get a few EXTREMELY important mods out of the way. Ion Burn increases Boost Speed, and Conic Nozzle affects base speed. These will make a difference for even Sigma ships that just left dock for the first time! Add Cruising Speed if you really want to hammer home that speed!

I built my Railjack the first day you could, flew it the first day you could, and entered the Murex the first day you could. It's had a min-maxed top-tier loadout since pretty much forever, and an updated when when Railjack was updated. I played all the Railjack events like Scarlet Spear. I farmed Sevagoth parts, did many Sisters, etc.

I still do not have a single Offensive tactical mod. None whatsoever. I have never had one drop and never one had one equipped. The game hates me.

Now I want you to list your loadout out of curiosity.

I have no idea where the forge is, and at this point I'm too afraid to ask.

It's at the bottom, all the way in the back.

Go all the way to the back of your ship, down the ramp. There are 4 forge terminals you can use.

At cock (giggity) pit turn around through those doors go down and it can only be used in mission

Now I have to check my mods and see whether something I've put up myself looks similar to this (it should)

Any hope for adding the links to your 2 other posts so lazy people could go reading right away? wink wink

I should probably interlink all three of my guides, huh? Ill work on that soon.

Excellent guide, thanks for putting this together! Will really help with the Void Storm grind. I had no idea mods mattered if you weren't host
