I did this one kind of recently, and I don't remember having any trouble with it. I'm pretty sure I used ember. Every time a new orb popped up I'd head straight to it, bullet jumping for speed of course. I think there was a yellow mission marker, so it shouldn't be too hard to find them. Between orbs I'd generally just spam ember's 4 to kill everyone in sight.

I forget the exact mods I used, but I modded for some combination of range (stretch / overextended) and energy efficiency (streamline / flow / preparation / fleeting expertise / exothermic). I also had enough ability strength to 1-hit kill everything, but I'm not sure how much is needed.
