Ayatan Treasures

121 EDIT

The Ayatan Sculptures are perpetually in motion, monuments of Orokin Continuity... immortality.

—Teshin

Folklore has it these Ayatans used to hold memories. Nowadays, some Ostrons survive peddling Old War trinkets like this, harvested from the Tower.

—Nora Night

Whippings. Massacres. Executions. All their favorite memories. That's what the Orokin used those pretty Ayatans for. Channeling Aya, the essence of memory. I just love watching Maroo melt them down. Erasing the Orokin, piece by piece. Some things deserve to be forgotten. Forever.

—Varzia

Ayatan Treasures are ancient Orokin artifacts powered by Endo that can be discovered to Maroo at her Bazaar for varying amounts of Endo, or placed within the Orbiter as decorations.

Stars

Main article: Ayatan Star

An Ayatan Star is a small treasure that can be inserted into Ayatan Sculptures to greatly increase their Endo value when traded in to Maroo at her Bazaar. Once slotted, a Star cannot be removed. They come in two colors: the more common cyan, and the rarer amber. Stars can also be traded in by themselves for a small Endo payout. Sculptures have 3 to 4 slots to insert Stars in, and each slot only accepts a specific color. Inserting Stars will also cause the Sculpture to visually animate, with more Stars improving the Sculpture's range of movement.

At Mastery Rank 10, players gain the ability to auto-install Stars into their Sculptures.

Acquisition

Stars

- Stars of either type can occasionally be found from Storage Containers and lockers. As with Sculptures, Stars must be manually picked up.
- Kuakas, small rodents found on the Plains of Eidolon, have an affinity for shiny things and can also drop Stars when killed.

Sculptures

- Each mission has a 1/7 chance to spawn an Ayatan Treasure that is hidden in the map, with each specific sculpture type having an equal chance to spawn.^[1] This chance is not affected by Resource Drop Chance Boosters.
 - Unlike with common pickups, the player must manually interact (PC default ) with the sculpture to loot it.
 - Unlike Stars, Sculptures have the same minimap icon as a regular pickup while having no distinct sound effect, meaning they can be easily missed.
- Maroo offers a weekly mission in the Orokin Tower or Orokin Derelict tileset where a Sculpture is guaranteed to appear.
 - This mission can be run multiple times in a row, however, only one Sculpture can be rewarded per week.
- Sculptures can be acquired as a reward from Arbitration missions.
- The  Ayatan Anasa Sculpture can only be obtained as a Sortie or Archon Hunt reward with a 28.00% drop chance at the end of the third mission.
- The  Ayatan Hemakara Sculpture can only be obtained:
 - By completing the Operation: Orphix Venom Advanced with 1,000 points.
 - By reaching Rank 22 of Nightwave Intermission III.
 - By reaching Rank 22 of Nightwave Nora's Mix Vol.3.
 - By reaching Rank 22 of Nightwave Nora's Mix Vol.5.
 - By reaching Rank 23 of Nightwave Nora's Mix Vol.6.
- The  Ayatan Kitha Sculpture can only be bought from Loid for 50,000 after acquiring the rank of Clearance: Odima with the Necraloid.
- The Ayatan Zambuka Sculpture can only be bought from the Arbitration Honors store for 50 Vitus Essence.

Additionally, Sculptures and Stars can be traded between players.

Managing Sculptures

In the Mods section of the Orbiter, selecting "Ayatan Sculptures" will allow the player to examine Sculptures and attach Stars. Stars can be inserted into a Sculpture by selecting the desired Sculpture, then hovering the cursor over a socket and clicking on it. The Sculpture must be in the player's inventory for it to be selected; if Installing stars displayed as a decoration, the Sculpture will not appear in the Mods screen. Each Sculpture can have 3 to 5 sockets available for slotting, with each slot requiring a particular type of Ayatan Star depending on the type of Sculpture.

Sculptures can be sold on Mars at Maroo's Bazaar for Endo.

Endo values follow this formula:

Endo = (B + 50C + 100A) × (1 + M × (C + A) ÷ S)

- B = base value
- C = # of Cyan Stars installed
- A = # of Amber Stars installed
- M = multiplier (0.5 for Anasa, 3.0 for Hemakara, Kitha and Zambuka, 2.0 for others)
- S = # of sockets

Endo Values
Treasure	Stars Slotted

Anasa (2 Cyan, 2 Amber)	2,000	2,306	2,363	2,625	2,688	2,750	—	3,025

Hemakara (2 Cyan, 1 Amber)	450	1,000	1,100	1,650	1,800	—	—	2,600

Zambuka (2 Cyan, 1 Amber)	450	1,000	1,100	1,650	1,800	—	—	2,600

As Fusion Fuel

Average Endo value of three-socket Sculptures is 1605.

- For a rare mod to reach rank 10 will require:
 - 613.8 Cyan or 306.9 Amber Stars.
 - 19.1 three socket Sculptures, 11.4 Orta, or 8.9 Anasa.
- For a Primed mod to reach rank 10 will require:
 - 818.4 Cyan or 409.2 Amber Stars.
 - 25.5 three socket Sculptures, 15.2 Orta, or 11.9 Anasa.

Endo Gain from Stars

Name ▾	# of Cyan ▾	# of Amber ▾	Base Endo ▾	Full Endo ▾	Gain ▾	Gain per Cyan ▾	Gain per Amber ▾
Anasa	2	2	2,000	3,450	1,450	241.6667	483.3333
Ayr	3	0	325	1,425	1,100	366.6667	–
Hemakara	2	1	450	2,600	2,150	537.5	1,075
Kitha	4	1	450	3,000	2,550	425	850
Orta	3	1	650	2,700	2,050	410	820
Piv	2	1	375	1,725	1,350	337.5	675
Sah	2	1	300	1,500	1,200	300	600
Valana	2	1	325	1,575	1,250	312.5	625

Zambuka	2	1	450	2,600	2,150	537.5	1,075

This table can indicate that the Anasa sculpture will yield the least amount of Endo gain for the number of Amber stars put into it at full value.

Weekly Mission

Once per week, resetting every Monday at 00:00 UTC, players can visit Maroo in the Maroo's Bazaar Relay on Mars to accept a mission in the Void or Orokin Derelict. Players are required to find a treasure room, which is a large special room filled with traps and obstacles that are activated upon players stepping on a pressure plate at the room's entrance. Once the traps have been activated, players only have a limited amount of time in which they must reach the final door at the very end of the room. Failing to reach said door before it closes completely will result in mission failure, though players can repeat the mission to try again if they fail.

If players successfully reach the last room before it closes, they will encounter a pedestal with an Ayatan Sculpture, the collection of which will complete the objective. Note that a player who has already acquired a Sculpture from their weekly mission will not receive any additional Sculptures should they join someone else's mission.

Notes

- Ayatan Sculptures and Stars are unaffected by Vacuum or Fetch, and must be manually picked up by the player.
- Ayatan Sculptures can spawn inside of a Cephalon Fragment.
- Ayatan Sculptures and Stars appear on loot radar such as Loot Detector, Thief's Wit and Animal Instinct. Sculptures have the standard resource/container marker, while Stars have their own unique icon.
- Ayatan Sculptures and Stars can be scanned by either of the two available scanners and will trigger Helios scanning until their Codex entries are complete. Like resource containers, they will only yield 10 affinity when scanned with a synthesis scanner.
- When partially slotted the Sculpture will flicker between the powered and unpowered state, moving in a broken, stuttering fashion.
- If you run out of amber stars first and want to get the most of them, the Endo value per amber star for the sculptures, according to the formula above \(https://github.com/anonymous/44a35171610de367bc4c44f08f1aba5b\), is as follows: Zambuka (1075), Orta (700), Vaya (633.33), Piv (616.67), Valana (583.33), Sah (566.67), Anasa (412.5).
- Value per cyan star also follows the same pattern as amber stars, with Ayr (3x cyan) ranking the same as the Piv statue.
- Generally, Orta, Vaya, Piv, and Ayr are best sold fully socketed, while the others can be sold incomplete with excess Cyan stars. Anasa can also be sold fully unsocketed due to its high base value (2000).

Gathering Tips

- While the challenge rooms are not overly difficult after experiencing them a few times, players can make use of the Titania Warframe (in particular her Razorwing ability) in order to trivialize the experience.
- Limbo's Rift plane bypasses all the trap effects, and a Range-built Cataclysm can blitz the destructible ones to make way for other players.
 - As the sculptures have a chance of spawning in every mission, by spamming short maps (e.g. Mariana, Earth) with high-range AoE abilities (such as Limbo's Cataclysm) modded for range and efficiency, and utilizing a Sentinel with Vacuum, your minimap will show only the items that your companion doesn't take, like Ayatan Stars and Sculptures.
- Using AoE weapons like Ignis modded for punch through, in conjunction with speed at which you gather Ayatan Stars and Sculptures.

- Abilities like Absorb, The Vast Untime, Cataclysm, or Mend & Maim, when modded for high range, can be helpful as well.
- Ayatan Sculptures spawn in the same locations as Syndicate Medallions, thus making Syndicate missions a good way of searching for them. While this by itself doesn't increase the chances of them spawning, players could already be searching every room for Medallions and destroying containers, hence potentially gathering up Stars and, occasionally, a Sculpture.
 - It is possible for both the Medallion and the Sculpture to spawn in the same spot.
- Using mods like Master Thief or Scavenge can increase the drop rate of Ayatan stars. Although, it is not recommended to use both – their effects cannot stack.
- The Infested Salvage mission (Oestrus, Eris) oddly has the same chance to have Sculptures as full-sized maps, despite being the same size as a Defense/Interception map. It has several container-ridden side rooms that may have a Sculpture, whereas Defense/Interception missions only have the beginning loot room.
- Using Codex Scanner or Synthesis Scanner is a good way of spotting Ayatan sculptures. They will be highlighted in green or orange as other scannable objects such as containers and enemies.
- Amber and Cyan stars have different waypoint icons. The star on Amber markers is larger than the one for Cyan stars.
- Requiem Relics have a chance of rewarding Amber Stars upon a successful opening.
- Infested Tumors (Hive Sabotage) count as storage containers, making it possible for them to drop Ayatan Stars. However, due to their awkward placements in the environment, it's very likely that – if an Ayatan Star is dropped – it will get stuck inside of the walls, making it unobtainable.
- Itzal's Cosmic Crush can pull in Ayatan Sculptures as well as Stars. Useful in underwater tiles in Sealab.
- The Helminth 15th Metamorphosis "Golden Instinct" Void Spark can help you locate Ayatan sculptures whenever there's one in range of the ability during the mission.
 - Parallax's Air Support ability fulfills a similar function.

- Ayatana

(Derived

An Ayatan Treasure seen in an Orokin building

Sanskrit: आयतन) is a Buddhist term referring to the "Six senses" (the five basic senses, along with the mind) and the manas and the qualities perceived by them.

- Old Man Suumba, an Ostron who lives in Cetus, possesses several Ayatan sculptures in his shop, two of which move on their own without Ayatan stars installed.
 - Among those animated sculptures is the then-unnamed Zambuka sculpture, which is prominently displayed on his table. It would take 2 real-time years, from Update 22.0 (2017-10-12) to Update 26.0 (2019-10-31), before players could acquire it for themselves.
- In an interview with Ars Technica (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=JGYjJtmUqhl>), Steve Sinclair explains that Ayatan treasures are said to store memories of the Orokin, which contributes to their high value.
- Zambuka is possibly an alternate spelling of "sambuca", commonly known as a Italian liquor but less well known, also the name of a triangular shaped ancient Greek stringed instrument.
- After reaching the rank of "Family" with the Entrati, the player Tenno is bestowed the name Ayatan as they are honorarily welcomed into the Entrati Family.

Bugs

- After finishing an Ayatan hunt for Maroo and not leaving the Bazaar, players can talk to her and start another Ayatan mission immediately. This can be repeated an unlimited number of times, however, the subsequent runs won't give you a new Ayatan.
- Upon duplicating an unfilled Ayatan Sculpture, the new sculpture may appear to have stars in it, but it will not be animated. this can also happen whenever you interact with an unfilled Sculpture after placing it.

Hotfix 35.0.2 (2023-12-14)

- Added motion blur to Ayatan Sculptures.

Update 32.3 (2023-02-15)

- Fixed Ayatan Stars not sitting properly in the Ayatan Sculpture after using the Auto Install button.
- Fixed UI temporarily freezing if players attempt to manually install Ayatan Stars too quickly.
- Fixed rare case of an Ayatan Sculpture spawning in an inaccessible place on
