Orokin Vault

39 EDITV QUOTES

As infestations spread across the Solar System, Orokin Ships were unable to make the jump to the Void and locked down Vault rooms to preserve the valuable artifacts within. A number of these Orokin Vaults have been located in the Orokin Derelicts.

The Orokin Vaults, also known as Dragon

Key Vaults and "The Golden Door" by the Ostrons<sup>[1]</sup>, are special vaults found in the Orokin Derelict tileset on Deimos missions which require a unique void key to unlock, called a Dragon Key.

Unlocking the Vault

Opening an Orokin Vault requires the player have one of four Dragon Keys equipped in one of their Gear slots, and only the player that opened the vault will have their key consumed. All Deimos missions, except for Defense, Assassination, and Landscape, always contain exactly one vault, with the required key to open it being randomized.

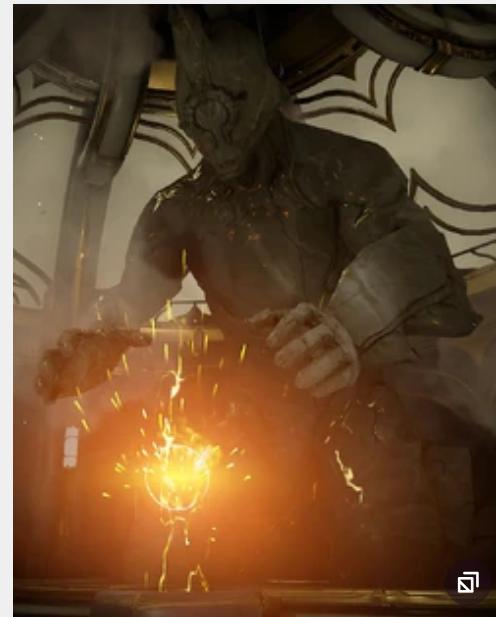

Dragon Key Blueprints are obtained through the Clan Dojo's Orokin Lab, and are reusable. When carried in the gear, the key produces a debuff to the player's Warframe. It is possible to equip all four keys simultaneously but all their debuffs will stack. It is generally easier to play with a full squad where each Tenno carries an individual key, as certain Warframes have stats or abilities that allow them to circumvent or even negate the penalties.

Parallax's Orokin Eye Air Support Ability can detect Orokin Vaults.

Inside these vaults appears a very large, all-white, and aged  Excalibur Prime statue that resides on the far wall with hands outstretched, between which is a Corrupted Artifact. Only one person needs to interact with the Corrupted Artifact, rewarding the entire squad with a random Corrupted Mod upon extraction. However, the player who retrieved the Artifact will receive a random Dragon Key penalty until the mission is completed, which can stack with any other existing Dragon Key(s) in tow including the debuff of the same type. Furthermore, all newly spawned enemies are replaced by the Corrupted, who will attempt to stop the Tenno from leaving with the Artifact.

Main article: Category:Corrupted Mods

Corrupted Mods are a class of rare mods that affect one stat beneficially (a bonus) and another one detrimentally (a penalty). Those available for Warframes are characterized by extremely high bonuses outweighed by major penalties. Those available for weapons provide bonuses of a similar strength to their standard mod analogues, while still also having a penalty. Corrupted mods can be obtained from the Orokin Derelict tileset on Deimos (not to be confused with the Orokin Tower tileset on the Void) using special Dragon Keys to unlock Orokin Vaults located within. They are untransmutable. Visually, they do not have any special distinguishing mark and appear as any other mod of Rare rarity (i.e. gold-colored).

- Corrupted mods that provide a bonus to Critical Chance (e.g. Critical Delay) are a notable exception to the general pattern of nonstandard mods in that they cannot be stacked with their standard analogues.
- There are currently 24 Corrupted Mods and each of them has an equal chance to drop (4.1667%).

- When doing with a Syndicate Alert, opening the vault and completing the mission will not reward a corrupted mod.
- When doing a Sortie mission, opening the vault and completing the mission will not reward a corrupted mod.
- When doing with Nightmare Mode, opening the vault and completing the mission will only reward a corrupted mod, but not a mod from the nightmare pool.

Update 34.0 (2023-10-18)

- Orokin Vaults on Deimos can now be highlighted by the Orokin Eye Air Support ability.
- Fixed Orokin Vaults not giving players an “Unidentified Reward” pop-up and reward in their Mission Progress Screen once players interact with the corrupted artifact.
