Set Mods

Set Mods are a unique class of Mods that offer increasing bonuses when one or more mods in a set are equipped on the player's Warframe and weapons.

Each Set consists of up to 6 Mods at most, with individual mods providing standard stat increases and bonuses, but also providing a second Set Bonus stat that is shared between all the mods in the set. Set Bonuses are improved through the number of mods in the Set equipped - the more mods in the set are used, the stronger the Set Bonus.

Set Bonus effects are not improved by upgrading the mod through regular fusion. Only the number of equipped mods within the set dictates the Set Bonus strength.

Notes

- The Augur Set can replenish shields even after life support has run out in a survival mission.
- The Vigilante Set's "Enhance Critical Hits" bonus refers to the ability to upgrade the Critical Damage level of the weapon by one rank, i.e. if the weapon deals a "yellow" critical, there is a 30% chance that it will deal an "orange" critical instead, dealing more critical damage. Another way to think of this is X% chance for +100% additive crit chance.
- Set mods equipped on Sentinel or MOA's Robotic Weapons will apply set effects.
  - However, duplicate set mods equipped on both the Warframe's and Sentinel/MOA's weapons will not contribute to the set bonus. For example, equipping Vigilante Armaments on Braton and Artax will only provide one count for the Vigilante Set.

optimize their builds.

- Hunter Companion mods cannot be used on sentinels.
- While Set Mods can be equipped on Exalted Weapons, they will not contribute to nor benefit from set bonuses, but the regular effect of the mod will still apply. This also applies to Venari.
  - The Sacrificial Set is an exception to this.
  - The Vilgilante Set and Gladiator Set can still apply if equipped on Warframe, Primary, Melee, or Robotic Weapons, and not on the Exalted Weapon itself.
