What frames pair well with precision intensify?

Question/Request

So far I've used it on styanax for more damage and overguard per hit as well as sevagoth just so that his shadow gets a mini version of blind rage without sacrificing much efficiency and running into energy problems. What other warframes can benefit from thus mod

Xaku to hit 100% slow

Such a stupid build but in the best way possible

I used it on Voruna. It just made big damage even bigger.

Exactly how I use it. I ran the numbers in a spreadsheet and it can help provide some juicy numbers. Run molt augmented and empower and you can get some insane damage on Ulfrun descent.

So far i only use it on Nekros to get the maximum DMGREduction on Shield of Shadows

I've tried it on Titania but so far i just did a quick test in simulacrum

In general that mod should be okay for anyframe wich just hardfocused on their ultimate thought of Ash, but i use him with Savage Silence < need to do some number crunching Banshee soundquake build?? < only ever used that for CC not DMG

Baruuk, Lavos, Ivara, Mesa, Valkyr, Volt.... these frames could work; i think they're not overly reliant on strenght in the their other abilities - but that heavily depends on the build Wukong, with Pillage on his 4.

Frost. Unless you use a strength based helminth, the only ability he have that really need strength is his 4. Bubble health scale on strength as well but in steel path it will go down immediately anyway, so no need to worry about it

Nova would also be good. To hit max slow. Without resorting to Blind Rage or Transient Fortitude. This also frees up an Arcane Slot if you run Molt Augmented.

Definitely lavos. His entire kit focuses on his 4th doing high damage

Might work well on Titania with Razorwing blitz, haven't tested it out yet to see if it applies to that augment though.

The bonus from the mod does carry over to augments.. however it seems that it's not properly displayed in the ability tool tip in the modding section

I use it on Ember and Titania, it works quite well for me

Gyre's Rotorswell damage scales off strength and the secondary shock from the Cathode Current augment is just 200% the damage of the original Rotorswell. I'mma test it out but I'm expecting the total 404% Ability Strength to do some decent numbers

I know this is kinda old but hoping someone might see it and possibly have an answer. I subsumed smite onto wisps 4 for the augment for more damage. Would this mod make smite increase damage even more or does it not count subsumed abilities?

FightArrow8 OP • 5mo ago

The mod says +90 strength for your 4th ability so yes, subsumed abilities that replace your ult also count

Would mesa benefit from it? Or should I just keep umbral intensify on her?

gofucyaself • 4mo ago

It works great with Revenant Prime, especially if you have Energy Nexus and Dreamer's Bond. You're basically a walking energy reserve and can spam your 4th with 90% strength all game. And with mesmer skin, no one's touching you.

Does it work with Wisp's sol gate?

klopaplop • 9mo ago

Mesa works fairly well with it as long as you don't have a helminthed ability on one of her other slots which could also do with a bunch of strength.
