They pushed themselves to Outlast the Enemy, to withstand all aggression without retreat. They believed that if the enemy could not match their endurance, then a battle could be won without having even commenced.

—In-Game Description

I see a mountain, breaking the sky. The Way of Unairu. We pushed ourselves to Outlast The Enemy, to withstand all aggression without bending.

—Operator

Not to be confused with the Unairu Polarity.

The Unairu way trains to become an indomitable soldier. The Tenno of Unairu provide the frontlines with unmatched tenacity, along with direct buffs to allies' offenses and defenses. Those who mastered the Unairu school are granted enhanced damage resistance and damage reflection.

This school improves Operator and Warframe survivability, granting immunity to Slow,  Stagger, and  Knockdown, increases armor, and clear Transference Static. They are also able to debuff enemies by stripping their armor and shields. Their Way-Bound allows the Operator to fight and self-revive their Warframe during Bleedout.

Since its predecessor Unairu 2.0, this school gained immunity to certain status effects, the ability to remove Transference Static, the ability to self-revive, now removes all armor, can now remove enemy shields, and summoned Unairu Wisps now seek out allies. However, Unairu is no longer capable of damage reflection and reducing enemy damage, Void Mode no longer turns allies invisible or grants damage reduction, and no longer has an on-demand bullet attractor effect.

Notes

- A fully levelled Unairu Operator is capable of:
  - Way-Bound: On Warframe Bleedout, activating Transference summons Operator, who has 15 seconds to kill enemies to fill a gauge to revive the Warframe; each kill fills the gauge by 30% but gradually drains over time. In this state, Operator gains 100% Amp damage plus an additional 25% per second.
  - Passive: Transference grants immunity to slow, Stagger, and Knockdown for 40 seconds. Increases Warframe and Operator armor by 200.
  - Warframe Passive: When Operator is downed, pressing the interact button (default ) summons the Warframe to their location, becoming invulnerable for 4 seconds. Killing an enemy while invulnerable has a 100% chance to remove Transference Static.
  - First Ability: Creates an 8 meter field that lasts 30 seconds, removing all enemy shields while they are inside it. Void Slinging out of the field refreshes

- Second Ability: Launches a bomb that explodes on impact or reactivation while mid-flight, creating an 8 meter explosion that permanently removes 100% of enemy armor. Each enemy hit has a 100% chance to summon an Unairu Wisp that seeks out the nearest ally in affinity range to boost Operator Amp damage by 100% for 20 seconds.
