Best Warframe for solo Netracells

Question/Request

Just went through 3 netracells that took way too long because people are trying to loot.

I use Voruna with dual keres (Best melee I got excluding glaive) Kuva Nukor and Cedo/nataruk. I don't use my primary as much with Voruna but I'm open to everything

I would say Kullervo, I just grab all 4 glyphs at the start either way and never even notice them.

He has great sustain, can nuke waves of enemies. He's my go to for high end content.

Nourish Styanax is what I've been using with a torid and natulis

I dunno about efficiency or anything, I get distracted every two minutes so my clear times are always bizarre since I have a lot of time paused.

But my Inaros with Gloom just... Solves solo netracells for me.

I typically solo Netracells with Nourish wukong.

Takes me 8 mins per round usually.

He can take all 4 keys easily thanks to his cloud healing.

And he can zoom around the map to get 3 objectives.

Also he can kill netramite and come back to objective very quickly.

My weapon of choice is usually boar incarnon or hate incarnon

My personal choice is Octavia and Hildryn

I usually use xaku, mostly because their 4 kills nechramite so I dont spend time looking

I use Gara but she is pretty energy hungry. I would say whatever tanky frame you have built well is a good pick.

I use Styanax normally because of the way he looks and how good he is. He's really effective. You can use melee with arcanes if you like, or just use his 4 for DPS. Loadout is boar incarnon/atomos/ceti lacera. However, before that I was using Nezha. No prime, no forma and roar helminth. I was truly shocked that a base nezha with no real investment was able to perform that well
