A golden blossom conceals deadly nectar.

Margulis, from your winter ashes, there has sprung a field of flowers. Conceived by me, germinated for deadly purpose. You used to dream of old Earth, didn't you? Bathed in gold and solemn blue. I intend to reclaim it now, from the spores and the ruin.

It came to me like a proverb: Fight poison with... poison. Cure this sick horde with the greatest of plagues. I will call her... Saryn.

—Ballas

Trivia

- The PS4 version of the game was the first of the three global builds to gain access to Saryn Prime.
- Saryn Prime is the first Warframe introduced via a cinematic lore video.
- Unlike most Prime Warframes, Saryn Prime prominently features an additional color, Violet, on her face and right thigh, as opposed to the predominantly monochromatic color schemes used by the other Prime Warframes (not counting the gold ornamentation nor the Warframe's energy color). This is a trait shared with Gara Prime, Garuda Prime, Harrow Prime, Octavia Prime, Titania Prime and Trinity Prime (who sport red accents on their bodies), Mirage Prime (who sports blue/purple shades on her body), and Nova Prime (whose lower arms and legs, along with portions of her face and chest, are in varying shades of blue).
- On February 16th's "Ask a Cephalon", Saryn asked how to stand out on the battlefield. Cordylon responded with, "[...] it is my understanding that the Lotus has uncovered new technology hailing from the Orokin Era that could interest you...". ^[1] (<https://warframe.com/news/ask-cephalon-43>)
- Certain areas of Saryn Prime glow with the current energy color (if applicable, otherwise will be default green) during Toxic Lash.
