what is the best Amp for eidolons?

Question/Request

Like the title said I just want to grind eidolon and the Sirocco is meh for taking down their shield fast enough

I go 777 for overall. 7xx for the spread damage aoe that hits multiple limbs. X7x is great for trash or even nuke something if playing with the madurai school. Xx7 for the critical. Eternal eradicate (the one that pumps damage on operator ability And virtuos strike for extra damage on crit.

Is it the clear best? No. Did I just run a hydrolist hunt yesterday and had 0 issues and nearly solo all the shield phases? Yeah I did.

I've tried the 177 and 777. Both work well. My preference is the 777 overall though.

The fact that you can get sirocco before getting an actual amp feels like a failing on DE's part

The "cheap" option would be a 143 or a 243, maybe shraksun scaffold too

The "best" option is 177 but that requires little duck parts

The bare minimum is 111

yea, given how mote amp sucks, how primary way of getting quill reputation before scarlet spear was eidolon hunts and how toxic the tridolons are (unles going pub where you get matched with all sort of people) im not supried somebody didnt bother to touch amp crafting, especialy that sirocco is good enough for angel fights

777 is generally a good amp but the sirocco works pretty well all things considered. Just keep activating the overcharge on every shot while making sure you only do headshots

177 or 777

177 is the best one but does need a bit of grinding before you can get it.

I use the 177 however also own a 777. Both are good but the 177 is easier to use for smooth brains like me since the 777 needs to be timed right.
