DE please fix Protea's shield gate

Bug

Currently, the shield gate from Protea's 1 is dramatically reduced by augur mods and brief respite. This would be passable if it was just your mods, but having a teammate's aura wreck your build is an aggravating experience.

There was just a QoL pass to address some other interactions unintentionally made worse by teammate's overguard. Can we get something to address this issue? It's particularly relevant since she's the current prime access.

You should probably post this on the forums if you want more visibility.

The way I understand it is that her shield satellites only give a boosted gate if they are broken from full (which is well over 1,000 shields) so tiny slivers of 10 shields or whatever mess with that and change your new gate to caca poo poo

Getting your shield popped with shield sattelites up gives iirc triple the usual shieldgate duration, but if you regain shields from augur mods/brief respite during the boosted shieldgate then you lose the rest of the duration of the boosted shieldgate.
