A couple of important suggestions for the free roam missions

Suggestion

While I've really enjoyed the free roam sections of the game, there are still a couple of things that I really don't like, and so do plenty of other players as I believe.

Whenever I accept a bounty mission for a free roam session, I always start out at the very starting point of the free roam environment, even with other players in the progress of said bounty mission, regardless of how far away the rest of the team is. This is pretty upsetting since I begin so far away from the rest of the team in the action of the mission, which is really not a good thing for the cooperative spirit of Warframe since the sections of the missions I try to participate in become completed before I can even catch up to everyone else, thus effectively excluding me from making contributions to teamwork. Not only that, I also don't get to opt of automatically joining other teams in progress when I enter free roam. There should be an toggleable option to opt out of joining the free roam sessions of other teams currently in progress, and if we do automatically join others in progress while on a bounty mission, we should instantly transported around the spot of the closest player to the mission's current objective distance-wise.

1. There are teleport pads in the open world now. Open the map and click the nearest one.
2. Set your game to solo and you won't join any other squads.
3. You want to fail with no penalty? Why even limit revives then?

You know there are teleporter pads in every open world that you can instantly join those teams right? Bounties are highlighted on map so you choose closest teleport point, 2 seconds zap and 100-200m meters of parkouring to join the said teams. About revives; no because you chosen to risk those rewards after dying 4 times but insisting to push your last live. Next time you get to your last live, run for the home.

You load in at the point where the host was when the game initially connected you to mission so the slower the rig you're running, the larger chance the host is way far ahead of you. Do you not have an archwing? With maybe the exception of fortuna, you should be able to catch up to the squad pretty quick.

I don't know what you mean by opting out though. You can opt out by switching to solo or friends only.
