Hotfix 35.5.6 (2024-04-10)

Updated Overguard Interactions With Vex Armor

As announced last week, we've changed how Overguard interacts with effects that benefit from receiving damage on Warframe to make it more co-op friendly.

Specifically, Chroma's Vex Armor. The conversations regarding Dante's abilities with Overguard became a driving factor to look at these interactions and find ways in which we can make them work to benefit co-op play. Overall, these changes aim to create a harmonious arrangement between the often unpredictable Overguard gains from allies and Vex Armor.

The following changes are in addition to their existing functionality.

Chroma's Vex Armor

Previously, Overguard would prevent Chroma from benefiting from his Vex Armor buffs (since it blocked damage on Health and Shields). So, we've made the following change to allow players to receive the buffs through all sources of Overguard:

Now: Melee kills now grant a 15% Armor increase and ranged kills a 15% increase to Weapon Damage (doubled to 30% for ranged weak point kills).

This has the additional perk of self-sufficiency where players have far more control over the buffs, instead of having to rely on the unpredictability of damage dealt by enemies.

General Fixes

- Fixed Warframe with cyclable abilities missing stats for each of their effects in the ability screen. Specifically:
