No damn way s17 and a17 have the same chance ,I've played apollo 20 times, each time defending all 4 without fail for 2 rounds each, and I have gotten a truckload of a17's and a grand total of 0 s17's

Disruption rotation is BBCC if you don't lose any turrets

A Fandom user • 8/18/2024

If you successfully defend 4 terminals on round 1, you get a B rotation reward.
Neo relics only come from A rotation

Martha Lover • 9/6/2024

Thank you both for these infos. I was gonna farm for a certain neo relic and got confused by the drops

I must be outrageously unlucky, over 15 waves and not one g11

A Fandom user • 5/9/2024

Even assuming all 15 runs rolled at the best odds (B with 14,29%) the chance to not hit g11 after 15 rounds is ~10% (9,89%).

Hardly outrageously unlucky :P

Do demos here still drop somatic fibers?

A Fandom user • 4/25/2024

I just got 2 so I believe so

Is the reward table order still AABC?

Jules0617 • 1/18/2024

Yep

A Fandom user • 1/19/2024

It does not follow AABC, but instead it depends on the round number and the amount of conduits you managed to defend that round.

Excerpt from the page on disruptions missions, where you can find a table explaining the rates:

"Disruption does not follow the traditional 'AABC' rotation for endless missions. The reward tier is determined by both round progression and round performance, i.e. the number of conduits successfully defended."

For as it applies to gauss prime relics, pools A and B can be reliably found by only defending up to 2 conduits each round. So, as long as you dont protect 3 or even 4 per round you can consistently pull from the right pools

Although Axi B7 can still be found in pool C, so really it doesnt matter how

Imagine thinking you need to "reset" after 2 waves to keep getting axi.

A Fandom user • 10/13/2023

So glad I read the comments! I would have been the person who kept resetting! XD

A Fandom user • 10/23/2023

I think some people dont want take the risk to get lens and Medallion
And most of public lobbies always protect all 4
And yes I have 130 Universal Medallions because the game hates me

A Fandom user • 12/26/2023

Yea don't bother resetting if you want axi; I've been actively trying to get lenses for a while and I've got nothing

So this is the only fastest and consistent Axi farm?

A Fandom user • 6/29/2023

I just completed 7 rounds and it seems like I should have had 4 Neo Relic drops but instead received 7 Axi Relics. So yeah, good for Axi farm.

A Fandom user • 6/29/2023

Well if you want neo relic here you need to control your defended conduits to 1 conduit only till round 3 otherwise just do the same thing you're doing in Ur, Uranus and you'll get plenty of them.

A Fandom user • 7/2/2023

Disruption is different. Rotation never go back to A. It stays on c if u can defend and never let it get destroyed. So every rotation is axi relic drop. Very good actually.
