Shrine Defense

13 EDITV QUOTES

For standard Defense, see Defense.

Shrine Defense is a Mission type. Players must safeguard  Ostrons from  Infested as they prepare offerings for  Koumei.

Access to this mission requires completion of Saya's Vigil and Once Awake quests.

Players must talk to Saya in Cetus who will introduce them to Koumei's Shrine where the mission can be initiated.

Despite the name, it is not an endless mission and its mechanics largely differ from standard Defense.

Fate Dream, sent from Koumei, who offers to help you assist in defending the Ostrons...

- 8. Patch History

Infested enemies are emerging from the ocean and advancing on the Ostrons. You must collect Fate Pearls for Koumei and defend the village at all costs! You may be in for a challenging fight with the Infested Oni, but by offering tribute to Koumei you can wield her powerful dice rolls for yourself and bring peace back to Cetus.

Infested horrors lie dormant beneath the muck of Cetus' shores. The sudden threat of their awakening prompts the re-emergence of the Dice-Maiden, Koumei, who offers a chance to ensure they sleep forever and spare the Ostrons an Infested doom.

Mechanics

Unlike standard Defense, the objective that is being protected does not have a health bar and thus the mission does not have a failure state.

To begin the mission, acquire a Koumei's Offering. Players must keep Infested at bay from two Ostron dwellings as the villagers prepare additional offerings every 30 seconds, but the timer is paused when Infested enemies are within the offering's radius. The offerings can be delivered to Koumei's Shrine which produces Health Orbs and a variety of buffs.

Once 5 offerings have been delivered to the shrine, players must kill Infested equal to 30 times the number of squad members (up to 120) to spawn the Infested Oni boss.

The Infested Oni has two health bars. Once the first bar is depleted, it becomes invulnerable and players must provide 2 more offerings to the shrine, after which the Oni can be defeated for good and complete the mission.

Shrine Blessing

Once an offering is brought to the shrine, Koumei will cast her dice, granting a random buff for 30 seconds.

Buffs can be acquired simultaneously by delivering multiple offerings. Rerolling a buff

Notes

- The Infested Oni is immune to most Warframe abilities and Viral status effect, and can only receive a maximum of 4 status effects of each type. In The Steel Path, it also possesses Damage Attenuation which drastically increases its durability.
- Shortly after the Infested Oni loses its first health bar, it will burrow into the ground and surface again near Koumei's Shrine (a functional teleport).

Tips

- All enemies are Infested Deimos which are vulnerable to Blast and Gas damage, but resist Viral.
- When farming for Fate Pearl, The Steel Path is notably less time efficient due to the increased enemy durability, despite the additional Fate Pearls and the Acolyte's Steel Essence.
- During the later section of the Extermination stage, grab the offerings but don't bring them to the shrine. After the objective to remove the Oni's invulnerability appears, insert them to reduce travel times.

- Fixed matchmaking issues when attempting to start a Steel Path Shrine Defense mission from the Star Chart “Saya’s Visions” node.
  - Due to the amount of people playing on the node, the matchmaking requests were likely to time out with people filling open slots in the squads before you. This would cause the “Unable to join” popup to occur on most attempts to start the mission.
- You can now access the Steel Path Saya’s Visions node from the Star Chart without having to complete a Steel Path Plains of Eidolon Bounty first.
