Notes

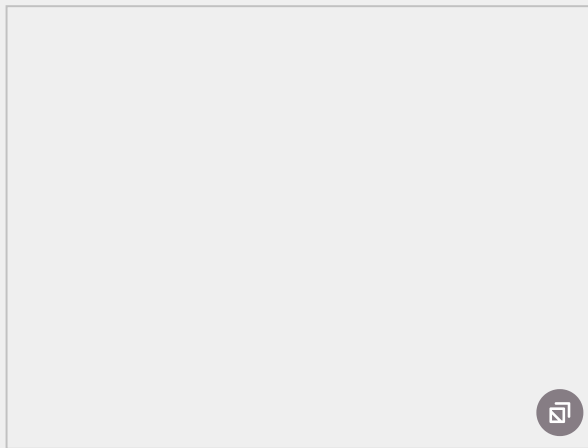

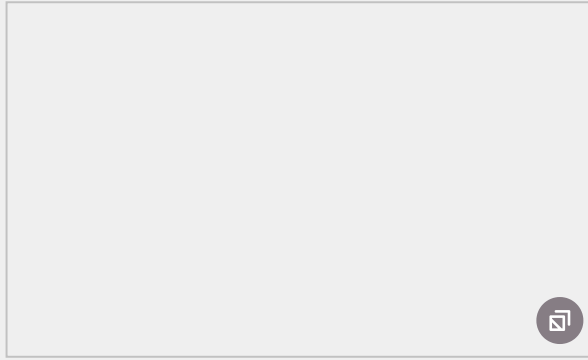

- Slam Capacitor charges have infinite duration and are only consumed on a slam attack.
 - Up to 5 charges can be collected.
 - Damage and range bonuses stack additively with each charge, for a maximum slam damage increase of +1250% and a slam range increase of +10m with 5 charges.
- Melee combos in both stances for Hammers have built-in slam attacks which neither consume Slam Capacitor charges nor benefit from them.
- Kills made with slam attacks do not grant Slam Capacitor charges, even on slams with no charges.
 - Kills from status effects will however grant charges, including procs from slam attacks.

Patch History

Arca Titron “Slam Capacity” Trait Changes

Arca Titron was an outlier to the Slam Attack rework in Dante Unbound, as its Unique Trait allowed for ludicrous damage numbers. We aimed to change its damage output to a more reasonable level, but as a result made the weapon too underpowered.

To address this, we’ve made the following changes to the Titron based on the community feedback we received after the adjustments we made to the buff in last week’s Hotfix:
