Help with AHK slide attack macro

Question/Request

Hello, I have some slide attack script that works correctly, but when I use it, shortly after using the slide attack it uses a normal attack, instead of proceeding with another slide attack, sometimes it works as it should, but most times it does what I said above, I tried other scripts and the same problem always happens, so I suspect it's my default key configuration, do I have to change something?

Script used:

IfWinActive WARFRAME

*Caps Lock:: Send, {Control Down} Send, {e} Send, {Control Up} Sleep, 400 Return

IfWinActive

adjust the sleep times for your attack speed I use 250 for atterax berserker on volt and 500 for atterax berserker on regular frames

```
#IfWinActive WARFRAME
*q::
Send, {Control Down}
Send, {LButton}
Send, {Control Up}
Sleep, 750
Return
#IfWinActive
```

Change the "q" in the second line to any key you like. Pressing q activates slide attack once, but only if you have the melee weapon equipped. Holding q repeats the action.

Or alternatively;

```
MButton::^e
```

This will make you do a slide attack with quick melee by pressing your middle mouse button while holding a primary or secondary weapon.

```
#IfWinActive WARFRAME
XButton1::

Send, {Control Down}
Send, {e}
Send, {Control Up}

Sleep, 150
Return

is what my script looks like. you do have to manually time the slide attacks though, you cant just spam mouse 4 really fast.

Edit: You're not letting e back up after it, it's staying pressed down. add an {e up} to the end after ctrl up and i imagine its fixed.

Do keep in mind the golden rule of;

One button press, one action

Pressing a button once and letting the macro do more than one slide attack without even pressing it again for example is bannable.
