Violet archon shards give half of mentioned equilibrium effect stats

Bug

That was a dream to put equilibrium mechanic into archon shards so you won't need to sacrifice your mod slot. Unfortunately regular violet gives only 10% instead of mentioned 20%. Tought its bug for regular one so I tested tau forged too, but it also gives half of mentioned stat which is 15% instead of 30%. Tested regular one and tauforged together then it should give 50% but no. I've got 1000 health via health orbs and only 250 energy instead of 500. Hope its just a bug, not wrongly mentioned stats and will be fixed as soon as possible.

It seems to work as intended for me, but maybe there's something buggy going on that makes it inconsistent.

With equilibrium (110%) and two violet shards (40%) I get 150 energy from a 100 health orb.

It would be extremely cool of DE to make purple shard equilibrium effect make it so you can pick up health orbs.
