

Skip to main content

r/Kitchenaid

Search in r/Kitchenaid

Log In

r/Kitchenaid • 10 mo. ago

Klaculas

Do yall actually use the pouring shield?

Looks like it's quite cumbersome to use especially if you need to wipe down the sides often.

Wondering if the extra 30 dollars for a pouring shield is justifiable, thoughts?

11

36

Share

AmericasNavy • Official • Promoted

In the Navy, we trade the classroom for world travel. You'll learn everywhere from the depths of the ocean to beyond the skies. What we teach you here, you won't learn anywhere else.

Learn More

navy.com

Add a comment

Sort by: Best ▾

Search Comments

Leading_Ad3918 • 10mo ago •

I use mine. I'm new to the KitchenAid world though. The first 2 times I didn't, I dumped the flour in, turned it on and flour went everywhere. So I decided to use it now lol. Some quick things I won't but for the most part I do. I only use it for dry ingredients though.

12

Reply

4 more replies

const_int3 • 10mo ago •

I haven't used mine in years. If I could get $30 or eve $10 for it to get it out of the house I definitely would.

10

Reply

LurkForYourLives • 10mo ago •

Skip to main contentLog In 3   Reply ... 1 more replynikongurl • 10mo ago •

My mixer came with one and I never use it. I wouldn't pay for it.

 8   Reply ...Ok-Feedback-3026 • 10mo ago •

I was under the impression it was for dry ingredients. I could be wrong. I own one but don't really use it tbh.

 6   Reply ... 3 more repliestessamarie72 • 10mo ago •

Yep cos I have more explosive flour issues than a reasonable person should

 4   Reply ...Steel_Rail_Blues • 10mo ago •

Not very much. I use it when making things that poof up initially no matter how slow I go, like a gingerbread box mix I like that has fine ground ingredients. Or on days I'm having trouble with my hands and want to make extra sure I'm not going to accidentally launch raw egg splatter as I add eggs one at a time.

 3   Reply ...Herbisretired • 10mo ago •

I threw it away years ago.

 3   Reply ...CloudHoneyExpress • 10mo ago •

I got with my mixer and have used it probanly once.

 3   Reply ...astral16 • 10mo ago •

i use it more like a splash guard, and it came with my machine

 3   Reply ...

Skip to main content

r/

Log In

I tried using the old two part shield 30 years ago and it was a pain. Tried the new one piece shield, and it was also a pain.

I do better just stopping the mixer to make additions.

↑ 2 ↓ Reply ...

Townsend_Harris • 10mo ago •

I'd love to have one, but both of the ones I got for my K5-SS don't fit (it is 40+ years old though).

↑ 1 ↓ Reply ...

monstrol • 10mo ago •

I have never heard of it...!

↑ 1 ↓ Reply ...

Take-A-Breath-924 • 10mo ago •

I use mine. It's 2pieces so it's easy to take apart and put back. It stops the powder explosion when you add ingredients. I love it!

↑ 1 ↓ Reply ...

effervescentfauna • 10mo ago •

I use it because it helps keep my toddler from sticking his hand in, but it warped like 1mm and doesn't stay on well anymore, so it definitely is a pain

↑ 1 ↓ Reply ...

Silverphile • 10mo ago •

I got rid of the 2 piece pouring shield (which I found cumbersome) and went back to my old one piece one. I find it very helpful when making mayonnaise and whipping cream.

↑ 1 ↓ Reply ...

bhambrewer • 10mo ago •

Came with my mixer. Use it regularly when dealing with flour.

↑ 1 ↓ Reply ...

HipHopSays • 10mo ago •

Skip to main contentLog In 1   Reply ...Infamous_Cranberry66 • 10mo ago •

It depends what I'm using the mixer for. If the project is splashy, I use the shield.

 1   Reply ...wonderous_albert • 10mo ago •

I tried it the other day. Is it necessary?! Its convenient and if you have large bowls to then pour into other bowls. Its great

 1   Reply ...View more comments

r/Kitchenaid

Saw this at my local goodwill for $89.99. I didn't know where to look for a model number. Should I get it?

496 upvotes · 121 comments

r/Kitchenaid

Can someone date my mixer?

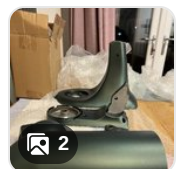

114 upvotes · 64 comments

r/Kitchenaid

Custom powder coated mixer, back from the shop

174 upvotes · 41 comments

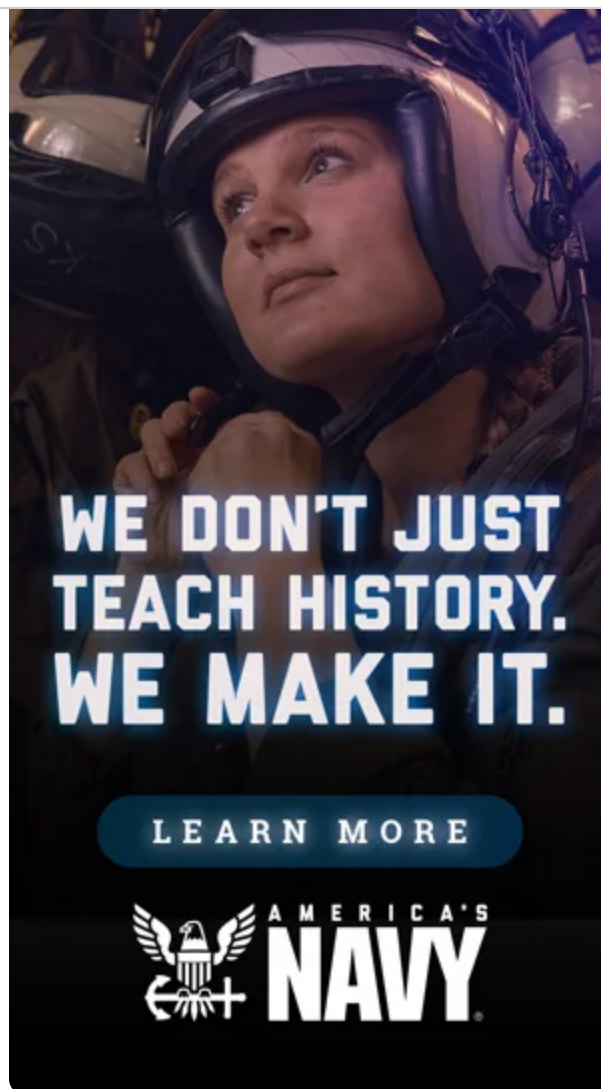

PROMOTED

...

Skip to main content

r/

Log In

r/splatoon

yall think 220 eggs will be enough for gold?

2 upvotes · 7 comments

r/ArcaneOdyssey

Do yall actually use your 2nd magic? Or the Beam spell?

19 upvotes · 26 comments

r/ironscape

Where do you guys use your Serpentine helmets?

15 upvotes · 30 comments

Skip to main contentLog In

136 upvotes · 41 comments

r/Kitchenaid

The Visible KitchenAid

131 upvotes · 21 comments

PROMOTED

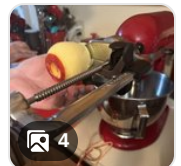

...

r/Kitchenaid

Apple peeler attachment has made my holiday baking so much easier!

116 upvotes · 21 comments

r/Kitchenaid

And the dough was just about done 🥰

2.5K upvotes · 225 comments

r/Kitchenaid

My new bad boy

1.4K upvotes · 59 comments

Skip to main contentLog In

3

2 upvotes · 9 comments

r/Kitchenaid

She's out in full force today! 📦

227 upvotes · 11 comments

r/Kitchenaid

A Dream Come True!!! 😭

219 upvotes · 42 comments

r/laundry

Should we have a "You bleached your clothes" stickied thread?

170 upvotes · 38 comments

r/Appliances

Trying to surprise my parents with a new induction range to replace their broken electric. Is it just plug and play?

134 upvotes · 277 comments

r/Appliances

Dear washing machine makers: what the actual fuck?

352 upvotes · 865 comments

r/Appliances

Sewer smell coming from washing machine.. so I drained it and this came out.. pink water man

2.2K upvotes · 244 comments

r/Appliances

Heard a pop and a saw a flash of light when oven was preheating. It's 15 years old. Is it possible to change the part or replace the whole oven?

307 upvotes · 175 comments

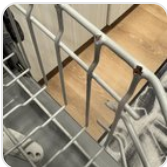

Skip to main content

Log In

4 upvotes · 17 comments

 r/Appliances

Rust in Dishwasher. What am I Doing Wrong?

370 upvotes · 126 comments

 r/armoredcore

how would yall structure a tournament?

2 upvotes · 9 comments

 r/Appliances

Slide in range won't go all the way back

238 upvotes · 345 comments

 r/FortNiteBR

Does the ki scythe have delay?

12 comments

 r/Appliances

1935 GE. Been in the family since new. Hardly ever gets turned off. Got a paint job on the top, a new power cord and a gasket a couple years ago but still chugs away. Uses almost...

400 upvotes · 45 comments

TOP POSTS

 Reddit

reReddit: Top posts of February 16, 2024

 Reddit

reReddit: Top posts of February 2024

 Reddit

Log In