Gummy mold recommendations

I bought some cheap candy molds on Amazon that worked great but started breaking the first time I used them. My preference is to not be using disposable candy molds so I'm looking for something a little more durable. Do any of you kind people have recommendations for brands of gummy molds that will last a while?

I have bought some silicone molds from Walmart and Hobby Lobby that I've been using for 5 years and still holding up well.

I use Trudeau brand silicon molds. They weren't super cheap, but seem as good as new 50+ batches of gummies later.
