XLR Microphone+Audio interface choices

So, I'm upgrading from an Aokeo AK60 and I wanted to go towards something like an XLR microphone, something like this FIFINE XLR Microphone and this audio interface, I don't know if they're a good pair or if they're a good option in general, but it'd be me going from a $40 microphone setup to a $130 one (minus the XLR cable as I don't believe neither the microphone nor the audio interface comes with one).

Also I stream, voice over, game, and use it for everyday things like discord calls. are these 2 a good pair?

Alright, so the Røde Podmic, the PSA 1 (the arm for it), and the Focusrite Vocaster One with a total of $294.67 (with tax), this is a good setup, correct?

On Amazon I see the whole for 227€, you can lower a bit by choosing a different arm, the PSA1 is great, but a little bit expensive.

What other arms are compatible with it?

This is easily one of my favourite features of Reaper: Automation items. You can even save them for later use across other projects!
