Will you guys delete your old characters / start fresh when Aeternum goes live?

Question

Sorry, this post was deleted by the person who originally posted it.

I will be making a new character on fresh start servers. I've been away from the game for roughly 10 months, and with the new story experience, I see no better time to start again.

I also would like to play with console players

That's why there's 3 character slots. There's no reason to delete your main, just make another lol

I'm not starting fresh.

I popped into the Beta and quickly realized it's not fun, at all, to re-grind all my weapon and trade skills.

When the first fresh start servers came out I deleted my main which I had stopped playing for months and also wanted the name. I haven't played since December of 2022 so if I decide to play again I will once again delete that character and start over from scratch.

You can go to 60. You'll just be locked out of 65.

Does beta progress transfer after the update? If I were to start a new character now?

Deleted 3rd cause that was only a lvl 3 account. Not deleting 1st and 2nd, might do something with those + spent enough time on those to not wanna throw them away.

Why would PvP track take 30+ hours for someone to just hit 29 FOR A CHANCE at the BIS Great Sword? No Thanks.
