Best way to level up a friend

Question

Hello everyone, me and a friend are super into new world, and we have another friend who started to play recently, and we want to play some content with him, since the level gap we couldn't play somethings with him, how can we make him level up faster? Is there any way?

This needs to be upvoted all the way to the top. This is how u backpack ur friend to lvl 60. Each trial upon completion gives u massive amounts of xp. Just spam those with him and he'll be lvl 60 soon.

Not really. The main story quest chain is probably the most efficient use of his time, but it's not like you can help him too much with that other than following him around an 1-shotting enemies to clear his path (although, you'll need to let him kill the enemies that are quest-related).

areas, but overall it should be easy to do this content solo.

What you should be doing is helping them prepare for the Gear Score grind, after they reach Level Cap. This is the part of the game where it is very helpful to have friends around to grind with and will be more fun for all parties involved. The easiest way to do this is Elite Chest Runs, find out when your server tends to host these and join in. Another good way to get Gear Score up is by doing the Gypsum Orb drops every day.

When you get into a lower level expedition be sure to make him take both repeatable quest. One is in the same area the other is at faction vendor

If gold(takes about 20-30k gold) is not an issue, you can run him to every town and just do town board missions, about 12 hours to 60. They refresh every 30 minutes and you can force a refresh every 50 refining tradeskill level. Make sure he learns to play music and the territory standing bonus. You can buy the town standing bonus for mark of fortune to cut down the time to 6-8 hours. Each town standing rank gives 1500 xp, and by 30 they give almost 5k, you only need 1.1 million xp, taking each town to level 20 standing is easy and already nets probably close to 100k, since you also get exp for turning in the quest. Make sure he has 1000-2000 vials of suspended azoth. I've been doing this every month to power level 13 characters to 60. They've doubled the town rep you get and cut XP in half, there is no nerf, in fact it's easier. Just don't do the kill x animals ones and stuck to crafting armor. Try not to level up any skills past 100, as the town board turn in scale with your skills, you don't want quest that requires 25 voidstones or ori ingots. Keep everything low so you can turn in low items. I don't know if the upcoming event has town board turns like the Christmas event, but those can cut the time to get to 60 to just 3-5 hours if you are fully boosted. Always pick storage first then town rep standing bonus when you gain a level. It also depends on the server you guys are on, it dictates how many missions are up.

As others said indirectly, funnel gold/ressources into him. Each refining skill on 200 is a great investment and provides a good amount of XP.
