Is black desert dead in 2024

Genuinely wondering and not trying to hate on the game, but is black desert dead in 2024?

I started playing the game again recently and it felt like all of the life that was there in the last few years is just completely gone, and even the pvp feels somewhat stale with the current playerbase.

Is there anything a returning or new player can do to liven up the grind and world?

Is there any hope of the player base get a spike again with no upcoming expansions or content releases that are worthwhile?

No, i quit the game because I was upset.

Guess reading is hard.

Apparently reading is hard for you bc I never questioned your reason to quit the game. Just criticized you still being mad about it even tho you quit the game. But no point to discuss with someone who argues with an argument he can't follow himself. Have a good night sir.
