CM saw the $60 ID-Cooling FX360 Pro went on sale yesterday and all the TR $50 AIOs.

Competition is good

wow what a price.

I almost bought it except:

a) my CPU is doing fine with single tower air cooler

b) it wouldn't realistically fit in my case.

but I almost bought it anyway!

Dang, missed this. Starting to help plan out a build for a friend and this would have been an incredible deal.

n00bpwnerer • 7mo ago •

This is a pretty solid deal for this.

YorkieCheese • 7mo ago •

when these failed, do they fk up the entire MOBO/CPU?

luchogv • 7mo ago •

No, it shouldn't. All motherboards have a fail safe when the CPU reaches a certain temperature it will shutdown automatically to avoid damage.....

.....But if you fail to realize the pump is dead, and you try and try to turn on the PC, you could toast your CPU.

Why assume it will fail?
