Talos (Gigantis) fight bugged?

Game Help

I think the Talos boss fight is. bugged. I rush him early, jump on top of him, and break all of the crystals. I heard there's an achievement for defeating him before he gets to Volcanic Island Camp, so I'm trying to do this.

When I get to the last crystal, it's immune. Even after he passes the Volcanic Island Camp, I'm hacking away at this crystal 100+ times and nothing. The other ones break in about 5 swings. What am I doing wrong? Is my game bugged from progressing?

Is this by any chance the one on his right hand? Mine bugged out and was still rendered even with a missing arm (only found out with magick bow aim).

Second time, I shortly destroyed all when he got to shore but it seems take an extra minute to take effect. Still got the achievement. I used the explosive aiming arrow (Magick Archer).

fight anyway when I went down that way so I had to reload Inn Save all over.

I love this game but man is it frustrating in dumb ways.

Yea I've heard that's one way to do it. But regardless, whether I'm going for the achievement or not he's invincible, is this bugged?

I used the unmaking arrow and hit him before the bridge. I had to wait till he walked a bit on land before the achievement triggered.

It can definitely bug out. I got the achievement first time on my first playthrough, but on my second playthrough the rod in his left knee is immortal. I don't know what triggers this.

can I ask how you did it the first time? Like which class you used and what your strategy was. Maybe if you remember where he was when he died too?

I think there's a deadzone somewhere in between the ocean and the Camp that he becomes immortal.

Super frustrating, I haven't progressed in days because of this.

Dragon's Dogma 2 was one of the silver tier in terms of Steam sales - Capcom really should recognise its value and release a DLC

Just realised that if you fall/jump from a damaging height, the tops of these will act as a cushion of sorts and completely mitigate all damage.
