For everyone having trouble with DSMapStudios since the Erdtree patch:
Try out Smithbox.

It's a similar tool. The author describes it as "a fork of DSMapStudio".

With this tool I was able to edit my regulation.bin file without any problems.

Thanks a bunch. I'll have a look at it later. I just want to remove some headgear accessories of some armors I was using before the dlc update dropped and some npc headgears lol.

Edit: Just noticed the linked github issue from the top comment also mentioned smithbox 2 days ago lol. Thanks regardless as I would have missed it if you hadn't commented here.

Bit late to the party, am using Smithbox and it works, but it doesnt have the dlc stuff in it in some key categories. How do I figure out the IDs of the new ashes in the AtkParam_PC category for example?

Can confirm this is for all DSMapStudio/regulation file mods due to the DLC patch 1.12.1. There is a forum on github addressing this: <https://github.com/soulsmods/DSMapStudio/issues/920> it seems the recent update to elden ring has broken some modding tools (and mods as well). we are stuck waiting until it gets updated.

I've got the same issue on my end, guess we'll have to wait for a fix.
