How to Fix Razer No DPI Notification

Solved

I found out how to fix the notification bar for DPI switches (how to make them show) on Synapse 3, since I did some research but there was no solution.

Here's the link to the original discussion:

Does it work if you switch DPI while in a game full screen?

fullscreen, but you cannot see the changed unless you exit fullscreen mode. If I need to switch my profile and I don't remember the colors, I usually ALT + TAB out of my game, check my DPI notification bar and go back to my game. However, it has worked in League of Legends for me without having to exit fullscreen, so I am assuming that certain games allow the popup and some don't. You should just test it in your game to see what happens.

A praise to razer: your mouse has accidentally been ran through the washer twice and is still in working condition.
