PSA: Resizable Bar / Smart Access Memory: Reduce FPS by 50 to 100 in Warzone and Zombies

Bug

In the downtown of Urzikstan, if you have Resizable Bar (Intel) or Smart Access Memory (AMD) enabled it will drastically reduce your FPS in Warzone and Zombies. These features work amazing in multiplayer but the Urzikstan map doesn't utilize them properly. I gained 100fps average disabling this CPU feature and now average around 280fps in Warzone with a 5800x3d and a 7900 xtx. With SAM enabled it drops to 150fps lows. I also tested this with my RTX 3080 on my Intel system with Resizable Bar Enabled and saw the same issue, I lost about 50 FPS because the 3080 is so much slower than the 7900xtx.

Note: This is not new, it has been a problem in Zombies since launch.

around, back up to 200, then if I turn back around, 100fps dips.

It's the Uzbekistan zombies map, it's a bug. Known bug. Turning s.a.m. off , stabilized my fps BUT only to like 140-160fps and I have a crazy pc. , when I turn it on. (S.a.m) I get 200-230fps BUT like I said, it'll dip to 100 randomly and even 80, it's dumb as he'll.

It's a bug, not your pc, I hope someone else reads this

I just tried this and my game keeps crashing. I5 12600 and 3070. With rbar I'm getting about 50fps. This game is so broken

I get around 140 - 180 fps with a 10900k and a 7900xtx. Do you think that's normal? The 10900k is overclocked to 5.1ghz. Ram is 3000mhz ddr4.

Did you disabled Rbar from the warzone config file or from the bios ?

I have a 7800X3D + RTX4070
