Emily Young has left Linus media group

ImageEmily Young
@EmilyAYoung1

Every story has an ending, and my time with Linus Media Group is at a close. A lot of my favourite people work there, and I'll always cherish our time together. These were some of the happiest days of my life.

Thank you all so much for supporting me. I wish everyone the best.

To everyone who has supported me before or after I announced my transition, sincerely, thank you for giving me the strength to do my best work, even when I didn't feel like I could.

I wish I could do something to repay you, but for now, I need to pick up the pieces and push on.

I don't know what comes next. I haven't written it yet. But I am gonna write it. I'm in better shape today than I have been in 12 years, and I have more skills now than ever.

I'm still not an expert at anything, but maybe I've learned just enough to make something out of it.

I've always wanted to help people. Spread enthusiasm and wonder for tech and so much more. I want to do what little a single person can to make things better, no matter how much, even if it's just for one person. Even if it's just silly.

That's my goal. I just need to do it.

This is sad :(Emily was always a bright light in the majority of the videos she appeared in!

The majority of the best performing videos have had Emily's involvement, either as a writer or host!

Emily, incase you actually see this thread... Thankyou for all of the enjoyment you've given the entire community over the past years, I hope you land on your feet and can find something that brings you as much joy as you have to us!

the bottom said "The Expert". If this is the bar shes setting for herself I cant wait to see what does with her passions.

Edit, typo

I was so excited to see if Emily would appear in more videos and I'm enjoyed all of her thorough work at LMG and I wish her all the best in the next stages of her journey

Probably just not wanting to attract attention to LMG or herself, Ava and Mr beast received a lot of negative attention with her transition (and before all the dog pack videos uncovered all that stuff)

She did an interview on Floatplane a long time ago and in it she spoke about what LTT meant to her. She said prior to working there she was in a bad place and that the LTT videos she watched made her feel better.

I think for a lot of people the daily LTT videos bring a bit of reliable joy and sometimes that's all people need.

Emily in that interview went on to say that is why she applied to work for LTT. She wanted to bring joy and make peoples lives a little better in the same way the LTT videos did for her.

I think she achieved that and whilst I'm saddened she wont be there anymore I think she can be proud of all the work she did and all the joy she provided everyone who watches.
