Does pia offer wireguard config files? I can't seem to find anywhere if they do or not. TIA

I have to agree with the op here I've been a PIA customer for something like 8 years but as others have pointed out it's likely time to move on if PIA isn't keeping up their service.

PIA released some proof-of-concept grade Linux shell scripts as u/maztheman notes, but they're pretty clunky and I wrote my own that can be asked to simply spit out the config without trying to apply it locally.

Note that after establishing a config with an endpoint, it will be flushed after "several hours" of being idle, and their endpoints are rebooted every few months, flushing all configs.

I've tried various combinations and still get this response, any ideas?

<https://github.com/pia-foss/manual-connections> they have scripts to connect to WireGuard.

Thanks for the replies. Seems like I'll look elsewhere tbh. There are too many that have config generators to worry about a workaround
