I'm pretty sure flasks are bugged and not refilling on monster kills consistently.

Discussion

I have been paying especially close attention and have noticed that my life flask seems bugged and not refilling on monster kills. I've tried a few different flasks and affixes, to same continued issue. It's driving me a bit crazy, as I will AOE a whole screen of mobs to not get a sliver of a refill and die shortly after.

Is this just me?

It fills alot slower than PoE1, and typically you may need to find a flask with % to gain charge on skill the game seems to be more linked to it's 'checkpoint' system, whenever you find/pass one you get topped off its refilling but very slow game is hard so it is a feature i think i think they only refill on blue monsters and above and not normal ones, it says I THINK on the bottle but i may be 99% wrong

That used to be the case, but they refill on white mobs now.

They'd have to, the game is like 95% white mobs so far.

I'm refilling mana in town. I killed a lot of monsters but didn't get charges.

I don't think they refill anymore. I've had to use the well in town.

I had an issue where if I equipped a new flask it wouldn't get charges from kills, I had to go to town and use well to fill it and then it started working correctly

Trying to kill the devourer. The health flask is definitely not refilling when killing those little bugs.

Yea i think there's bugs. My wife is playing witch, hers refill constantly. My warrior's health flask doesn't. Only refills at well or checkpoint. Mana flask is fine. Have swapped out flasks but all health flasks for me are bugged.

Which is great since im yhe front line fighter and can't get health refills.

Poison makes it so that you dont count as killing mobs, which means you might not get xp, rarity and on kill effects.
