Microsoft Surface Laptop Studio 1 still worth it in 2024?

[LAPTOPSTUDIO]

Hey, I could get an Microsoft Surface Laptop Studio 1 for 1000€ right now brand new. But iam unsure since I need it for CS in University. We mainly use Webstorm and some VMWares. Do you think the Microsoft Surface Laptop Studio 1 is still worth it for me in 2024?

Thank you already

If you need the quasi-tablet function and you can't find a better deal, the SLS1 is fine (battery life is not exceptional but does okay).

If you don't need that function (for, say Photoshop/Illustrator/Fresco) then I would recommend finding something that isn't trying to be everything.

Expertise: Day 1 SLS1 owner who teaches Photoshop.

Surface loses their price fast even though they are good machines. I had a Surface pro 7 that I spent 2k on at launch. Tried selling it this year for 1K - no one even messaged me. Ended up selling for £400...

Its just because they churn out a new one every year. $400 is honestly pretty fair in terms of resale for the SP7. I think for models earlier than sp8 have a much sharper decline since SP8 was the first refresh model in a long time, but thats just a guess.

IMHO, it's the best pen-supporting laptop I have ever used.

It has IMHO a better cast/value than SLS2.

surface pro 4 from 2016 still rocking decently strong here. Def looking dated with the big screen borders but still works well enough.

Either way looks like it's actually a bit cheaper refurbished on amazon https://www.amazon.com/Microsoft-Surface-Laptop-Studio-Touchscreen/dp/B09N8V3YBP?source=ps-sl-shoppingads-lpcontext&ref_=fplfs&smid=A1P5YGFPRB0CAV&th=1

I love mine. It's my main work machine. But for run vmwares ? No.

It's an well built device, great display, really good feeling. But CPU is limited, you gonna need ram so at least 32gb.

For 1000€ , you can find Lenovo, HP, Asus with better hardware :)
