Pretty interesting product, but it seems to be more of a gimmick than a real product. If I wanted a desktop rig, I'll just drop a banger in my mouth. The ones with batteries are limited to around the house, and id rather a plug in model at that rate back yard, or around the house, or even just not having another permanent cord and plugging this is at night makes a big difference.

It's only slightly larger than the peak, and a bit more rugged with protected glass. I would say the hit quality is significantly better
