Permission denied enabling/starting script

From SSH I get the following error:

root@OpenWrt:/etc/init.d# /etc/init.d/startup-script enable
-ash: /etc/init.d/startup-script: Permission denied

I had logged in before and I can use commands like `cp` in the directory without problem. I get the same error with `start` and LuCi shows the following message: `Failed to execute "/etc/init.d/startup-script enable"` action: Command failed

I was following the guide of this post, with a few changes to the filenames and a portion of the first script so I could check the connection to the main router in the LAN network. I am having trouble with the second script file, which

Make sure the script has the execute bit set:

chmod +x /etc/init.d/startup-script
```
