Gamepad latency on moonlight/sunlight with VirtualHere vs Apple TV 4K?

Has anyone compared gamepad latency with VirtualHere on a raspberry pi to native Apple TV 4K bluetooth connection? I'm experiencing a slight lag, mostly noticable during fps gaming, when using my dualsense connected straight to the Apple TV bluetooth on moonlight/sunlight and I'm wondering if there'd be any benefit to connect it to VirtualHere instead.

Which USB bluetooth device do you use for this?

I use the USB dongle for the Xbox game controller. I think the latency is fairly low for that Thanks. I was hoping one could somehow use the native rpi bluetooth but my Google research came up short so I ordered a cheap USB dongle from amazon. We'll see how that works.
