zlehnherr

failed to connect to local tailscaled

Help Needed

Just installed tailscale (tried both manual and the automatic) but when I try to do "sudo tailscale up" I get the error failed to connect to local tailscaled (which appears to be running as tailscaled, pid 3664). Got error: 503

Service Unavailable: no backend

I did get it up and running on a different raspberry pi on the same network, but want more redundancy like I do with wireguard.

What does it say when you run "sudo systemctl status tailscaled" (exclude the quotes) on the pi in question?

Did you reboot the pi after installing and try it again?

What OS version are you running on the pi?

You installed this directly on the pi and not doing anything with containers or anything correct?

Is the tailscaled service running?

zlehnherr OP • 2y ago

Yes, if it's not it gives a different error and says to start it
