Welcome. To the club. It's the new update. Not sure if Sony have gone ahead with that extended warranty or not for these things

They should have pushed a message through the app inviting people to replace their earbuds at no cost. Instead you have to contact support at your initiative only to be told that you have to pay to ship your earbuds to another country for inspection and repair that is not free of charge.

contact customer support, I bought mines via amazon and in the end send mine back and got a refund, without any troubles.

I bought mine 2 years ago. Do you think they'll still replace them

You are done. Get new bateries from ebay for 20$ and replace them. It's pretty easy to do.
