Setting up Private DERP server

Help Needed

Hi everyone,

What is the latest (and simplest) best practice regarding setting up a private DERP server. (Guides, containers, etc)

Around the afternoon i experience to slow connection with the Tailscale DERP servers.

Also, what is the best practice in terms of placement of this server?

- On my local network?
- On a VPS?

I have done some research already so i know the principles, the guides I found where relatively old...

Thanks in advance!

Both of those are close enough that latency is a non-issue, but, the speeds via the public DERP server are terribly poor.

I tried adjusting the weighting of different regions and disabling specific regions look here but disabling my nearest region causes all of my nodes to go offline (and sometimes needs a tailscale restart to recover them, which is REALLY painful) and adjusting the region score seems to do nothing.

Any other resources you know of? That tutorial is garbage. Lots of stuff poorly explained and stuff missing. My autistic cousin could write a better tutorial than that.
