Chicago VPS recommendations

Seeking Recommendations

So I'm looking for a Chicago VPS with extremely low latency to local data centers in or around downtown Chicago, specifically the single hop data center. I'm talking 5-10ms.

I've used a few, but they either range from 15-20ms or are very inconsistent and range from 8-40ms.

Here's the ones I've tried

1. Cloudfanatic
2. Vultr
3. Cloud and metal
4. Kamatera
5. Linode

Even if you are nextdoor to a datacenter there's no guarantee of Single-hop routes to the VPS provider. Their exchange points can vary and routes can change over time. If you're getting 15-20ms on average, that's likely about as good as you're going to get.

Take a look at Google and Cloudflare IPs and do a traceroute or mtr to to them. They are globally distributed and have really good routing and you'll likely see 15-30ms. The reason why I say this is, if Google and Cloudflare have equal or higher latency you're probably better off sticking with what you have.

5-10ms latency over vps isn't super-realistic due to many factors along the wire. When I was in that area Cloudfanatic had the lowest latency.
