Parallels one-time purchase?

Help

Did Parallels get rid of the one-time purchase option? There's still support docs about it but I went to buy it today and suddenly it's not on the website anymore, at least from what I can see. It was there last week when I got the trial version to try out.

Since this is MacOS software a VM won't help you - it's for running Windows on a MacOS.

To do what you want, create a small partition on your Mac. Following this Apple support article Run multiple MacOS

Just do the ADFS part

Then download the MacOS you want from here MacOS

Install it on the new partition you created. You can then boot into it instead of your primary partition, which will remain untouched.

Install the beta IPSW on it and you can test it, without needing to touch your primary partition.

Yeah that's what I plan on doing when the beta comes out but I was trying to avoid it lol

You could look at UTM but I think that runs on Windows so you can run MacOS on Windows.
