CypressLo

local network cannot connect relay server

Hi,

I am a newbie and set up a server in my home.

I have set up port mapping in my router to a PC which is a Ubuntu desktop.

My friend's PC can connect to my router's public IP. We tried to use Android to share the internet to my laptop and this laptop can control my friend's PC without issues.

So this means my router and server should be fine.

My problem is that when I go back home my laptop connects my router directly by wireless.

The ubuntu server and my laptop are in the same local network.
