Voice attack alternative

Is there any software out there that could replace voice attack, as I do not have the budget for it at the moment? Preferably compatible with voice attack packs or something set for elite right away. Thanks.

Try the trial version first, worst case it is $8

I use Voicemacro, <http://www.voicemacro.net>, freeware written by an ED player, and the download page also includes a voice pack and profile for ED.

Used both and they worked great, but ended up building my own profile over time to suit my exact needs.

Does everything I need, or am likely to need, for ED. Thoroughly recommended ;-)

To be completely honest, I was a little put off at first of the price of voice attack. Sure, it's only 8 bucks.. But at the same time, the trial was limited to like 5-10 commands I think and the largest reason for me wanting to use it was to use a profile like anubis or KICs.

So, I said 'screw it' And bought it highly expecting voice attack to be a regretted purchase. I was pleasantly surprised with the quality of it. I like that it's a one off purchase and I can set it up to launch apps for me whenever I want to launch them via my voice and I find it to be very much worth the 8$ price tag.
