Fu%# Adobe

Discussion

They updated their obnoxious unlicensed popup and now the photoshop application is 100% unusable for me. Any fixes?

I'd suggest just installing a older version of photoshop, and blocking it from all internet access after its done installing

Still using 2019 version and it's still working flawlessly

delete the authentication program and block adobe with your firewall

Yup this is it.

I believe it is called something like "Adobe genuine service". Literally just go to apps, search that and simply uninstall it. (and then firewall inbound/outbound rule block)

You can just avoid the hassle by getting the apps elsewhere. Try the tutorial "Design King Licensing" on YouTube. It'll walk you through getting them. It costs $15 a month for the genuine Adobe All Apps plan with Firefly AI, Cloud, and multi-device logins. I've been using it myself, and it's working fine.

If you ever feel useless, remember Photoshop gives discounts when you pirate their software

The way to remove that is blocking Adobe from the "hosts" file on your PC.

You can download the hosts file from this reddit post, replace it, and you are good to go!

Adobe is doing this every week i guess,, i recommend to use adguard home as your local dns server, use a-dove-is-dumb hosts on it, and use the dns logs to analyze the adobe domains if something happens
