Docker or stand alone?

I run the AGH application on a Mac to serve DNS to my home network. But I also have Docker running for some other services, which got me to wondering if I should run AGH in Docker instead? Are there are there any downfalls to moving to a Docker image or any benefits over the stand alone application?

I installed Vaultwarden with docker compose, I can access the admin panel, but not the main page, it just loads forever

Containers were a mistake. This is all radically more complicated than it needs to be. Running a computer program is not that complicated.
