[Discussion] [Guide] How to play any game with steam_appid without any other apps!

Hello. There is very simple Steam Guide: How to play any game with steam_appid without any other apps like SAM ! I mean: ANY GAME on Steam. Here we go:

1. Install any game with steam_appid.txt (Lyne, Cyborg Detonator or something like that):

2. If you can not find that game on Steam (like Dota 2 Test) or that game is Free, go to <https://steamdb.info/> or just on Steam, and press "play" or "install": <https://i.imgur.com/x1qrlAe.png> and press X after that:

3. Open steam_appid and write that game Steam App ID: <https://i.imgur.com/ZUqVCFv.png>
4. Open Cyborg Detonator.exe or Lyne .exe or that game with steam_appid, and we will have this:

5. And you don't need any SAM (Steam Achievement Manager)

You can actually do this with any game, you just have to create steam_appid.txt in a game's root folder.

how do i create one ?

this doesnt work. I added a steam_appid.txt and put 480 (Spacewar's id) in it in the games root folder (next to the executable and stuff) and I ran the exe directly but it still runs it with the games original steam app id.

Ever figure it out? Maybe try running with goldberg emu?

Using 480 outside developer accounts is asking for Valve to ban your account eventually, since that id is for developers to test steamworks features.

As for why is not working, is due to the game you trying to run probably having steamstub, plus you not supposed to put the steam_appid.txt in the root folder as poorly stated by others.

You put the steam_appid.txt next to the Steam API library.

I have steam_appid.txt in game folder, one game even already had it when installed. I launch game with exe file and it still opens in Steam.

Doesn't work in all games. Here's a list: https://steam.fandom.com/wiki/List_of_DRM-free_games#steam_appid.txt_games

This trick can be used to spoof game ID, but unlikely to allow launching them without Steam. If the game uses Steam API it needs to talk to the library implementing it which loads with Steam client.

How do I put a "steam_appid.txt" right next to the executable? If I have to do this manually, what's the process for MacOS?

How do AppIDs work? Could you randomly assign one to a non-Steam game or does it have to be the AppID for that version of the game?
