PervertedGreat-Monk

Hello, new to POE in general and need some info regarding item levels.

Question

Do item levels matter? I am a level 30 monk with level req 16 staff / armour. Does the level req effect item stats ?

Cause I cant get higher level items, nearly cleared act 2.

Are there way to get higher level items?

How can I increase the overall quality / level of my items?

Item level is not the same thing as level requirement. The level requirement is determined by what affixes the item currently has. You can safely ignore it and just use whatever items have the stats you need.

Item level is determined by where the item dropped and can be seen if you look at the detailed description. It determines what affixes it can roll if you use currency on it, so it's something to consider before committing any orbs. You'll naturally find higher level items as you progress into higher level areas.
