at the start it is, you need a lot of skills to make it feel like old summoner, and you wont have access to the sunflower build for a while either.

Yep feels like I do 0 damage as I don't have sunflower. I'm just leveling an assassin now for fun as summoner feels like a burden on the party.

I personally dont think summoners are a burden at all for the party a summoners cat can res and take aggro from the ads while the whole party focus the 2nd boss on TOE

Even tho they nerfed summoner in CN..what you're really feeling is the pain of basic level skills, because you have to skill book everything.. try grabbing some green skills with valor stones.. i recommend doom and gloom, cower (makes ur cat have its taunt), and rumbling bees, and ur basic attack thats 4 greens, 80 stones should have plenty if you have been doin blues.. also craft the infernal weapon thru faction dailies, if you cant afford to buy one of the ah or havent run toe yet. once you have the weapon farm toe dagger break for accessories to slot those greens.. do those and ur summoner will feel a lot better, till 45 patch drops and we can get more skills.

NC nerfed summoner to the ground after release in China. Did nothing to improve it since. Summoner in current state just unplayable garbage with no dps and zero survivability. And even legendary skill books won't fix that slop of a balance. Rerolled to fm after slow suffering through story quest and done them 10 times faster. What did they do to most fun and unique game class is just stupid.

It will get better once silverfrost comes (in the OG). For Neo you can achieve earlier I think if you have the purple skill books
