How to get access to the new prelude?

Question

I see people talking about the new prelude, did DE drop more keys or how are people getting access?

Most of the people talking about it already had keys, like from the preludes 9 stream. If you already have a key you get access to the future preludes

You can get a key from watching the soulframe streams with the next happening around July 19th-20th during tennocon, but it hasn't been confirmed what the drop will be or even if there will be one at Tennocon. This is also the most reliable method so far.

Orrr

You can wait to receive a key from the weekly invite gamble on Wednesday where they send out 2000. I'm still hoping I'll get a key one of these Wednesdays 😊

I honestly don't know WHY I got a key, but here's what i did:

- started following soulframe on twitch
- connected twitch account to soulframe account
- completely missed the livestream
- got an email the following days stating something like "if you missed the key during the livestream, here's yours"

I believe the previous twitch stream was bugged, so everyone who had a connected account received a key.

Preludes 10 is the latest update of the current pre-alpha build for Soulframe. The only way to play it is to get/have a code. They do waves of codes every Wednesday and I think they do more for when an update drops. I've also seen some ppl say that they're gonna do guaranteed code twitch drops from now on, but I don't know how true that is. I believe they do have a code giveaway every stream tho.

There are keys for sale on some game key sites. Proceed with caution :)

For a game meant to be about community and discovery, the official Preludes Discord sure has a lot of rude, gatekeeping players on it.
